

Greetings,

We invite you to register for the much-anticipated 54th Child Neurology Society Annual Meeting October 8–11 in Charlotte, North Carolina. This year's program is sure to exceed your expectations for learning, sharing, and camaraderie.

Noteworthy Changes for This Year's Program

When you register for this year's Annual Meeting, you'll notice optional events that allow you to customize your schedule. During registration, select which events you plan to attend. This will ensure we're best prepared for your attendance.

Your registration fee covers most sessions. However, you'll also have the option to select ticketed conference events for an additional cost. You'll make all your selections during the registration process.

On the Agenda

We're pleased to announce several changes and additions to this year's program. Here are a few highlights:

Wednesday, October 8

Wednesday is now a full day of programming open to all members. Instead of our traditional opening luncheon, the day will begin with the new Kenneth F. Swaiman Opening Address and Awards. The rest of the day will offer eight workshops, the Child Neurology/NDD Educators Symposium, and industry sessions during lunch. We'll debut a new lunch format for the Child Neurology Foundation Symposium.

The Exhibit Hall will open in the afternoon. Plan to attend the full day to honor your colleagues and meet other seasoned professionals.

Thursday, October 9

The Thursday agenda will continue with the Presidential Symposium, Seminars, and research presentations, allowing education and professional development, as well as ample time for collaboration and networking.

Friday, October 10

The Clinical Research Workshop is now part of Friday's program. Be sure to pre-register for this popular session.

Saturday, October 11

Our meeting will close with the Year in Review and a new Genetics Summit. The summit is an optional, ticketed event, so be sure to register for it in advance. The Genetics Summit promises to serve as the perfect wrap-up for our 54th Annual Meeting.

REAL ID Reminder

Beginning May 7, 2025, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security will require a REAL ID to fly commercial airlines within the United States. Well before your travel date, be sure you have a REAL ID-compliant driver's license or other acceptable identification, such as a passport.

Get Started Today

We encourage you to take advantage of the early bird registration rate, which ends July 31. Don't delay making travel arrangements and booking your hotel.

Charlotte: The Queen City

Nicknamed the Queen City, Charlotte has a lot to offer visitors. Whether you enjoy history and science museums, arts and culture, nature hikes, or want to visit the NASCAR Hall of Fame, Charlotte has something for everyone. The city center, called Uptown, offers plenty of options for shopping and city tours.

The Queen City also features a wonderful variety of indoor, patio, and rooftop bars and restaurants. Typical Charlotte weather in October is pleasant, with average highs in the low 70s and lows in the 50s, making it ideal for outdoor activities during your free time.

Make Plans to Join Us

We value the work you do toward our shared mission of ensuring children with neurological and developmental disorders receive optimal care that's on the leading edge in the field of child neurology.

We hope you'll join us as we gather for four days of diverse discussions, educational seminars, advanced research presentations, and the chance to network with colleagues, both familiar and new.

See you in Charlotte!

Monique Terrell, Executive Director/CEO
